Arts and Crafts

This week, the students had a great time during arts and crafts! We painted a large sun and had them use their hands to make the sun rays. This painting is going to be posted over the window in the craft area so that we can watch our sun get brighter and brighter as the sun starts become higher in the sky, stay longer during the day. Talk to your child about the sun each day. Ask them things such as “Did you see how light the sky was?” or “Was their more sunlight today than yesterday?” Be sure to talk to your child about the sun and that it will be back very soon!

We will be welcoming back the sun on January 23rd!

We invite you to take a moment to complete a short survey. Please follow the link below.
